

AIFST Food Science and Technology Consultants Agreement

The AIFST provides a Consultant Register of members who are prepared to act as consultants or provide other technical services for those seeking paid technical advice or Consultant services.

The register is housed on a dedicated webpage on the AIFST website and maintained by the AIFST staff.

The website states that Consultants will not offer free advice or information to the media, students or other enquirers, and the register is for paid services.

1. Terms and Conditions

- By agreeing to be included in the Register, you understand and are aware that the personal contact details you provide on this form will be made public and accessible by both AIFST members and non-members.
- You are aware that there is no guarantee that you will obtain work from your inclusion on the register.
- Inclusion on the register is voluntary and free. AIFST will provide no remuneration or charge any fee for inclusion.
- If you wish to make changes to the information included in the register, please contact the AIFST on +61 447 066 324 or email aifst@aifst.com.au. It may take up to 5 working days for the changes to be actioned.

2. Disclaimer

- The AIFST Consultant Register is designed to connect Consultants and Clients only. AIFST shall not be responsible or liable for any outcomes that may develop directly or indirectly from the Consultant/Client relationship, or any advice and/or information communicated between Consultant/Client.

3. Confidentiality

- Any and all communications including discussion, shared documents or other such information between Consultant and Client are to be treated as sensitive and confidential.
- Any disclosure of private information of your Client or information relating to the business or business practices of your Client may jeopardise your membership with AIFST and legal action may be taken by the Client.
