

EDUCATION & CONTINUING PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT MANAGER

The Australian Institute of Food Science and Technology Limited (AIFST) has an exciting opportunity for an education and training professional to join our Sydney based team.

AIFST is the only national, independent voice and network for Australia's food industry professionals focused on building the skill and capability of its members to underpin their contribution to both the Australian and global food industry.

AIFST is seeking someone who will take responsibility for education and the implementation of a continuing professional development program for the Institute. This program will be key to delivering against the key focus areas of grow, learn and connect which form the basis of the 2019 – 2021 Strategic Plan which is under development.

A key focus for the role will be to facilitate the provision of identified skill and capability building opportunities for AIFST members and engage with the broader Australian food industry to promote and identify further program opportunities.

Reporting to the AIFST Managing Director, the successful candidate will:

- Plan, organise and coordinate the development and delivery of the AIFST CPD program, and;
- Actively identify and provide new training opportunities as part of the ongoing implementation of the education and CPD program.

To be successful in this role, you will need a passion for the food industry and the development of food industry professionals at all career stages. Relevant experience with training programs and event management is desirable.

The position is a part-time role – 3 days per week with flexibility to spread the hours across four days.

An attractive remuneration package commensurate with experience and qualifications will be negotiated with the successful candidate.

For more information including a copy of the position description, please contact AIFST Managing Director Fiona Fleming via email (fiona.fleming@aifst.com.au).

Please forward your application to Fiona Fleming (fiona.fleming@aifst.com.au).

Applications close 5pm EST, Monday 25 February, 2019.
